

BRIEF CV OF ALEXANDER GEORGOPOULOS

Alexander Georgopoulos was born in Athens in 1952.

He studied Chemistry at Athens University, from which he graduated in 1975. He finished his doctoral thesis from the University of Manchester, England. From 1985 on he has taught in the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, in the Department of Sciences in Preschool Education where in 2008 was elected as a regular professor.

He has written three books: Environmental Education (1993), Ground: A small and Fragile Planet (1996), Environmental Ethics (2002).

His articles have been published in Greek and foreign language speaker scientific magazines.

He is member of Balkan Environmental Association, the Mediterranean Association for Environmental Protection, The Greek Association for the Protection of Nature and Cultural Heritage and also the founding member of The Pan-Hellenic Union of Teachers for Environmental Education.

Prof. Georgopoulos is one of the older members of Ecological Movement of Thessaloniki and editor of the ecological newspaper “EN OIKO, EN DIMO”.

He is married to Evangelia Kirkine and they have a son.