

Patrizia Deiala has a Bachelor's degree in Political Sciences, a Master's degree in International Relations and an Advanced Master in Administration and Management of Not-for-profit Organizations. She has been working as project officer and assistant project manager in Italy and she is currently working in Greece for ANTIGONE. She has been involved for many years in volunteering activities with homeless people and with migrants. In the last years she had been teaching Italian to migrants in Rome in the school "Louis Massignon" of the Community of Saint Egidio. She speaks Italian, English, French and Spanish and she is currently studying Greek.